Files Reveal Gun's Origin

Antioch Fire Department Chief Edgar Simonsen recently answered a question put out by the Antioch News which inquired into the origin of the artillery piece located on Orchard and Broadway streets.

Simonsen, who had remembered our newspaper article, dug about in various village files and discovered an army release which authorized Antioch's display of the gun.

The weapon, a 57 mm anti-tank gun usually towed by armored vehicles, was brought to Antioch July 6, 1948 from an Army arsenal in Ogden, Utah. The shipment of the gun, which was part of the army's demilitarization program, was brought here on the Soo Line and stationed in its present site to commemorate the war dead.

Gas Pedal Sticks As Driver Passes

A stuck gas pedal caused an accident on Rte. 173, east of Highway 48, last Saturday afternoon at 3:57 p. m.

Anton F. Hornof, 64, of Silver Lake, Wis., was proceeding down 173 when Kenneth Van Patten, 50, of Lake Catherine, attempted to pass him.

Van Patten's gas pedal got stuck while he was passing Hornof, and while he attempted to release it with his hand, he swerved over to the right sharply, hitting Hornof.

Although Van Patten's car had to be towed away, no injuries were sustained by either driver.

Murphy Seeks Re-election

Rep. W. J. Murphy

Representative W. J. Murphy (R-Antioch) formally announced today that he will seek re-election as Representative to the General Assembly from the 31st District.

In making his announcement Murphy frankly admits that he had been very seriously considering becoming a candidate for the new Congressional seat in the brand new 12th Congressional District created by the re-apportionment by the Special Session of the General Assembly.

In his release to the press, Rep. Murphy stated "In my four terms as Representative to the General Assembly in our State, I not only worked at my job at home by trying to be of service to my Party and the people of my District, I also worked at it in Springfield and advanced through the ranks to become part of the leadership on the Republican side of the aisle. If it had not been for the defection of some of the so-called Republican members in the last Session, that gave the leadership to the Democrats, I would have been Whip of the House.

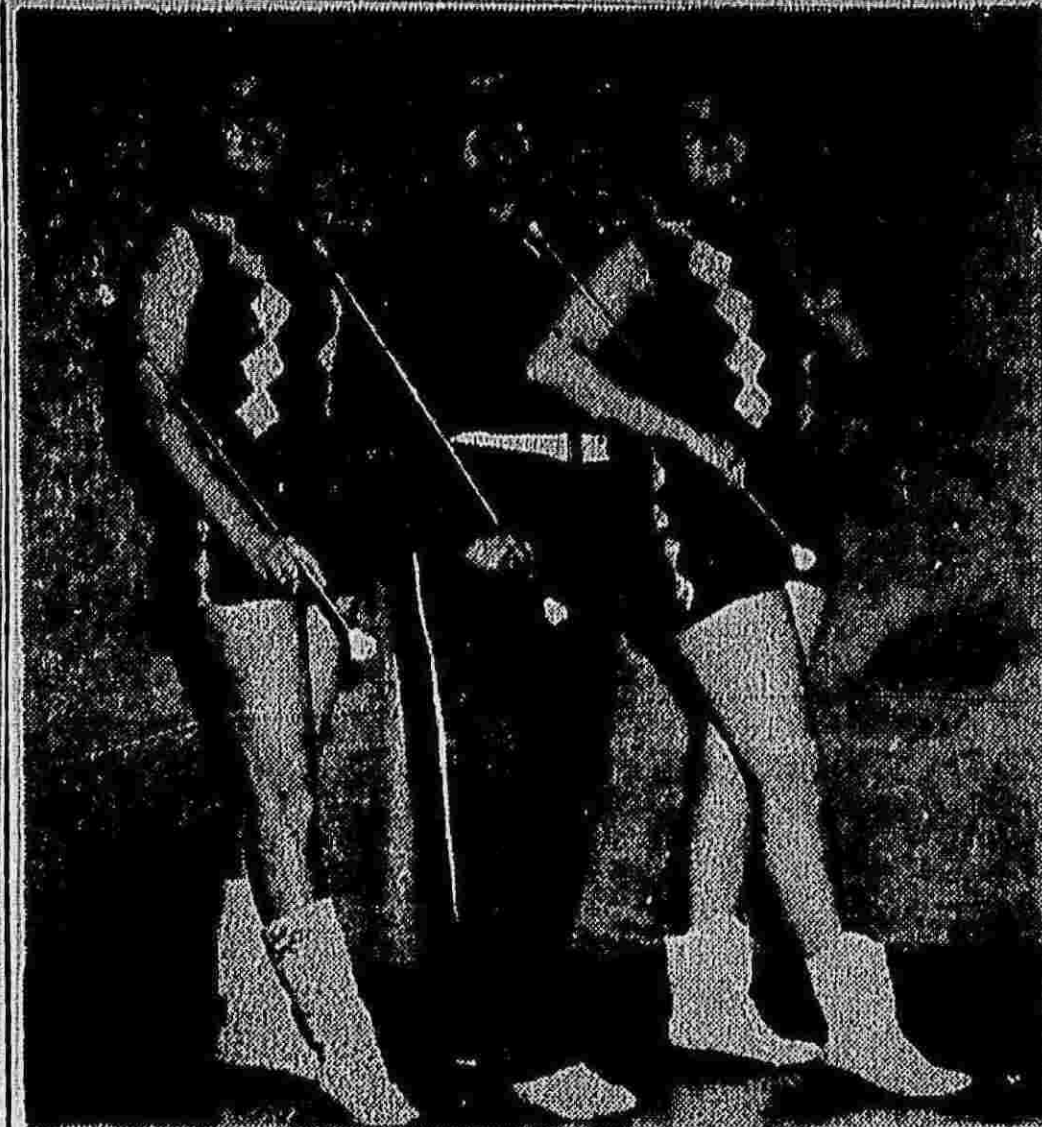

Murphy further stated that if returned to Springfield for his fifth term he was quite confident that in the next session he would be in excellent position to become either the Leader or the Whip of the House—a position that no representative of our District has held since the late Richard J. Lyons served as Whip of the Illinois House.

New Well Is Started At Grass Lake School

The Grass Lake School recently reported that a new water well is in the process of being dug to facilitate the school's utility system.

The old well, which was drilled into a rock ledge, has not proven adequate for the school.

E. H. Glenn is presently handling the project which had to be halted due to the severe snowfall.

Alyce Brownlee, Gene and Ann Shea, championship twirlers, will perform as one of the twelve acts in ATH's "Showboat," this weekend at the high school.

Auto Rams Car On Slick Road

An accident took place on Rte. 43 on the south edge of the State Line Road last Sunday, at 7:22 p. m. when Stanley Epping, 21, of Burlington hit Basil Stefanski, 33, of Antioch as he was being pushed out on Rte. 43.

Stefanski was attempting to make a left turn when Epping struck his car. Epping said he could not stop due to the icy condition of the road. Epping's wife, Lyane, 20, stated that she had been momentarily unconscious.

Damages were done to both cars. Stefanski's had to be towed away while Eppings moved off under its own power.

No serious injuries were involved in the accident.

Illegal Pass Causes Crash

James E. Wray, 19, of Chicago was hit by a car driven by Frederick Hawkins, 19, also of Chicago on Rte. 173, east of Lake Avenue last Saturday, Jan. 13.

Wray, who was westbound on 173 was turning left when Hawkins attempted to pass him and struck his car.

Wray's car was driven away but Hawkins' had to be towed. Hawkins was given a ticket for passing on a curve.

No injuries were received by either person.

Auto Catches Fire in Lot

Chief of Antioch's Fire Department, Edgar Simonsen, reported that a car fire occurred last Wednesday morning, Jan. 10.

The car, a 1953 Pontiac, caught fire in the Quaker Industries parking lot when alcohol in the radiator apparently burst out upon the interior of the engine and started the fire. Damage was done to the engine and motor parts beneath the hood.

John Kleckl, owner, of 250 North Ave., was not present at the time of the fire. No one received injuries.

Helpful Motorist Hit From Behind

Raymond T. Odom, 27, of Winthrop Harbor struck the car of John Biggerstaff, 34, of Lake Marie, while Biggerstaff was assisting a stalled car on Rte. 173, a half mile west of 59.

Odom, who said he could not stop on the icy pavement, overtook Biggerstaff while he was attempting to back around the stalled car and hit him.

ATH's production of "Showboat" this coming Friday and Saturday promises to be one of the most interesting and varied performances ever put on. The show itself, sponsored by the Antioch High School Music Association, will carry a cast of fifty.

Included in the whole show is a thirty voice choir, a five piece combo and twelve different acts. The variety of music to be presented will run from the old-fashioned banjo solo up to the modern gyrations of the Dave Brubeck type of entertainment.

Many forms of comedy will be presented. Gene Shea will do an outstanding comedy twirling act entitled "Miss Majorette." Miss Ruth Nickelson is scheduled to perform the famous comedy skit from Rogers and Hammerstein's "Annie Get Your Gun."—You Can't Get a Man With a Gun.

Accordian solos and folk songs will also be presented.

The twirling act, comprised of Alyce Brownlee, Ann and Gene Shea, is representative of many awards and individual honors. All three twirlers have been VFW National Champions at one time or another. Gene Shea has been national champion for six years. Ann Shea is the present VFW champion and Alyce Brownlee was VFW champion during her senior year in high school. All three twirlers are holders of numerous other honors.

Gene Shea, along with accumulating extensive awards, has had a vast amount of professional experience, playing at many of the hotels and clubs in and about Chicago. He has also toured Europe with the Betty Hutton troupe.

The program, which presents a veritable raft of entertainment enacted by village adults, promises to be a night to remember.

The show begins at 8 p. m. in the Antioch High School Auditorium. Tickets can be purchased from the parents of high school band and choir students or at the door on January 19 or 20.

Trevor Resident Killed by Flames

Arthur Dittman, 79, of Trevor, died of third degree burns last Thursday, Jan. 11, after his clothes caught fire while warming himself at a stove in the Wilton Garage located on Rte. 83 in Trevor.

Dittman, who apparently got too close to the stove when flames leaped upon him was treated by Dr. Kopriva before being sent to Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan where he died a few hours later.

Dittman had a daughter living in Chicago.

Fallout Pamphlets Are Given By Post Office

Postmaster Roy Kufalk recently reported that copies of Fallout Protection Pamphlets can be obtained at the Antioch Post Office by all those interested. The pamphlet being distributed is published by the government office of civil defense.

Income tax forms of all required varieties may also be acquired at the Post Office.

Boy Attends School After Slaying Sister In Home

Found in a pool of blood in her home last Friday night was Connie Eastman, 11, of Channel Lake.

Connie, whose mother, Bonita and step-father Robert Willis, were already at work, had been preparing to attend school Friday morning with her brother Donald, 13, when she was killed by a .38 bullet which entered the back of her head and passed through her forehead.

Terrance K. Horton of Antioch was recently issued a probationary driving permit due to traffic violations.

The announcement was made by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter through his office of the Illinois Drivers License Division.

Chamber of Commerce Holds Crucial Membership Dinner

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce held their monthly dinner meeting last Monday night, Jan. 15, at Lorenz's Smart Country House.

A small portion of the Chamber's members were present at the event. The meeting, which was begun at 8:45 p. m., commenced as John L. Horan, Executive Secretary, was asked to review the chamber's activities of the past year by President Stanley Toton, who opened the meeting.

Horan, who stated that his time as Executive Secretary had terminated January 5, reviewed the various chamber projects of the past year which included the Maxwell Street Days event, the Civil War Centennial, the floats in the homecoming and the Christmas promotion for Antioch's children.

Horan read the minutes of the last meeting and presented the accumulated records of the chamber dating back through the last 9 months' activities. Among the records presented were membership brochures, the original Chamber charter, 220 letters of correspondence, Lake County Civic League sheets, minutes of previous meetings and research reports.

A few committee reports were given by the scant members present and a prolonged discussion took place which was concerned with the promotion of chamber membership. The meeting adjourned at 10:15.

The Education Staff Council, composed of ATH department chairmen and special teachers, recently evaluated the annual school program detailing the present curriculum of the school. FOLLOWING in the footsteps of his late father, Waukegan Atty. Ralph J. Dady Jr. (right) files his petitions as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Probate Court Judge in the office of County Clerk Garfield R. Leaf as the political season officially opened on Monday. Waiting her turn to file as a candidate for re-election for GOP Representative Committeemen after an all-night vigil outside Leaf's office is Mrs. Helen Burke, of Antioch.

Department Officials, Donald Eastman admitted shooting his sister early in the morning with a pistol he had found. He said he had been teasing his sister with the weapon, when she ran to a couch in the living room and hid her head beneath a pillow. He then aimed at the pillow and pulled the trigger of the pistol several times until a shot was fired.

Donald then told the authorities that he became frightened, and tipped over pieces of furniture to shed blame on an intruder. He cleaned the pistol and replaced it in a drawer, dragging his sister's body to the rear entrance of the house.

Afraid to report his sister's death, Donald proceeded to school and played basketball after classes were over. He then went home and reported that his sister had been shot and that he had found her after returning home from school.

The family's dog, a Boxer, had not barked, nor had any other sound been heard by neighbors living near the Willis home at the time of the shooting.

Chief Sheriff's Deputy Charles E. Larson, stated that he thought the crime to be "apparently accidental."

The youth admitted the shooting at the Antioch Police station where he was taken for questioning by Sheriff's deputies. A statement was later given in front of Sheriff Norris Froelich, State's Attorney Bruno Stanczak and two deputies.

An autopsy was taken at Victory Memorial Hospital by Coroner Babcock while continuing the investigation of the case.

At the time of the shooting, Mrs. John Burnett, a neighbor, stated that she heard someone cry "mommy, mommy," about 8:25 a. m. She looked out of her window but saw nothing.

The sheriff's office stated that the youth was taken before County Judge Minard Hulse Wednesday.

Services for Constance Eastman were held Monday at Strang's Funeral Home. Rev. Eugene Tate of the Wilmet Methodist Church officiated. She was buried at Home Oak Cemetery.

GOP Committee Plans Dinner

A Republican Committee, comprised of Marv Heath, Loren Sexauer, Herbert Horton, Fred Zeason, Hillard Tobieski and Bill Horton are grouped together in order to back Chief Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Larson for the up-coming Sheriff's post, met last Tuesday night, Jan. 16, at Lorenz's Smart Country House.

It was the last committee meeting before the Larson dinner to be held at Smart's Country House this coming Saturday night. Tickets and monies collected for the dinner were processed by a committee.

Tickets, which entitle each purchaser to a smorgasbord dinner and drinks, can be purchased from members of the committee and at the door the night of the dinner.

The Kick-off dinner is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. this Saturday.

Inspection Finds Alarm Call False

A fire alarm was set off at the new telephone building located on Lake Street last Wednesday morning, Jan. 10.

Fire Chief Edgar Simonsen investigated the alarm before fire trucks answered the call. He discovered that the signal had been set off due to the severe cold freezing the wiring.

The fire department also reported that a call was answered on the same day when a furnace in the Vern Heath home at Channel Lake caused considerable smoke.

The cause of the smouldering fumes was attributed to fuel oil which backed up into the fireplace.

However, little damage was incurred and two fire department trucks and five men stood by in case of the hazard spreading.

ANTIOCH'S CHAMBER PROBLEM

Seemingly oppressed from a staggering lack of membership attendance and support, the Antioch Chamber of Commerce presented a doleful picture indeed at their monthly dinner-meeting last Monday night.

Out of the 80 some members who belong to the Chamber, who pay their dues, serve on its committees and have been elected to its posts, only 8 members were present.

It was a sorry representation of what should be considered the strongest and most influential civic organization in Antioch.

Those present had a quiet dinner, presented what business they could and bemoaned the Chamber's fate. Where were all the members? Why had they not attended? Some present said it was due to personality clashes, petty animosities. Some said it was due to lack of proper leadership. Some said blame could be placed upon the non-support of other organizations such as the Lions Club, the Village Board, the Moose, the Jaycees.

Actually, all of these things enter into the problem of a faltering Chamber but these are not all of the facets involved.

To begin with, we believe the chamber is only as strong as its weakest link, its weakest member who attends only when it is convenient; when he is in the mood to participate in the chamber's functions.

We feel that those who believe that the chamber, born 9 years ago in the Village of Antioch, is constituted solely to devise ways of self-gain for its members are sorely mistaken. The organization, here or anywhere else, is not a commercial enterprise designed to award profit and individual success to its members.

The Chamber of Commerce should be a civic-minded group of businessmen, thriving on the purchasing power of a community, who think well enough of their fellow residents to perform civic works timed toward their behalf.

Of course, support from other organizations should be in keeping while working toward the chamber's preservation. And in the same vein, elected officials, such as our Village Board members, should do a little bit more than criticize the chamber for limping along half-heartedly when they are obligated, not only to themselves but to their voters to support such an organization.

The natural question for the non-member to utter of the chamber is "Yes, but what does it do?" Our answer would be to such a person "without you and several others, very little."

"But the chamber has never done anything except hold commercial events which profit them a good deal of money," someone was heard to have recently said.

It is important for the non-member to understand that nothing can be done by a chamber made ineffectual do to lack of membership and workable funds.

The problem here reaches inward toward the chamber also.

We believe that all civic organizations must have a goal, a common cause for which to fight.

The apparent success of the Lions Club in Antioch is built, with a goodly portion, on this premise. They have served the public and their own reputation by constructing and maintaining one of the best swimming pools in the state of Illinois.

So too could the chamber function. A youth center for instance, a public park with sport facilities, instruction and guidance in all forms of recreation provided, could be one of many common causes by which the chamber could build its influence.

Naturally, this would require land — which the village could donate if they so desired. A project such as this would require money, excessive amounts of money, but a thriving community can always see its way clear in solving that problem.

But more than anything else, such a project or a similar one, would require the generous time, effort and sustained drive of those primarily interested in the welfare of the community in which they live.

And these persons are the ones, we believe, who should comprise and direct Antioch's Chamber of Commerce.

It is our opinion that if there are no such persons in a community, then there is no Chamber of Commerce.

The only way to establish a strong Chamber is to join it, plan with it, support its plans and continue to stay and grow with it. The best way for a chamber to fail entirely is for its community to be little it, ignore it, criticize it and, eventually, die with it.

PROTESTS PHONETIC SYSTEM

381 Park Ave. Grayslake, Ill.

To the Editor:

Some statements in the introductory paragraphs to the Second Grade's Supersonic News irritated me. (Antioch News, Jan. 11) I quote:

"The reason for the mis-spellings, stated Mrs. Whitacre, is due to the present 'phonetic' instruction the children are now receiving and their words are spelled as they sound. For instance, one word continually mis-spelled is 'our' which is spelled by the students as 'are'."

I do not know what type of phonetic instruction Mrs. Whitacre uses, but the diphthongs "ou" and "ow" are never taught as "ar". I would rather ascribe such mis-spellings to faulty diction and faulty observation, both deleterious results of the "look-say" method without benefit of phonics. Numerous other mis-spellings probably would not occur were "phonetics" really stressed.

brecliet for breakfast; baro for barrel; started for started; went for went; mush for much; brovs for brothers; farm for from; farst for first; where for were; bark for bark; sakteing for skating.

Were vowel sounds learned, such mistakes as tim for time, fen for fun, shoting for shooting, want for went, honting for hunting, would be less frequent.

I do not believe that any student's work, uncorrected, should appear in print. These letters are rough drafts and should be treated as such. The knowledge derived by the student in correcting and revising his work far outweighs any curb it may be to his creativeness.

What might pass for humorous mistakes in second grade are no longer funny when high school students continue to spell our-are, went-went, were-were, want-want, their-ther or thir, was-wus.

A friend of mine who taught high school typing courses lamented that his students made just such errors. I wonder if they were ever forced to correct their mistakes, or were they allowed to "create" a spelling system of their own.

Don't you think that with the innovations of frozen foods and dehydrated foods, that we have passed through a "way of life"? By way of life, I mean the old-fashioned (for lack of a better name) manner of cooking.

Do you remember (as I do), you would be sent to the grocer's for 15c worth of soup greens? And you knew that all you had to do was to ask the butcher for a soup bone. (For 10c he'd throw in a piece of meat.)

Then, the delightful, steamy fragrance of home made vegetable soup would permeate the house all day. Later in the day the pungent odor of home made bread drifted to the door, as you entered. Now the clack, clack of the huge butcher knife as mom sliced, ever so thin, those mouth-watering noodles she made so well.

No one ever stopped to figure the calorie or vitamin content. Somehow, I feel even if they could it wouldn't have made any difference. Science has made great strides forward in keeping us fit and trim. But Metrecal or TV dinners will never replace (in my mind), the wonderful feeling of opening a door, at supper time, to a house filled with home-cooked odors. This my friend is the greatest tranquillizer of all.

Speaking of food, my disappointment of the week was when they called off the P.T.A. Box social Monday night. I had my 12 Metrecal wafers all done up so pretty, too!

Picture of the week, (If I only had a camera), Carl Seemann shoveling snow behind four foot drifts on Lake St., in 15 degree temperatures, and wearing a short sleeved sport shirt! Wow! That's what I call cool, man, cool!

On the other side of Lady Luck, is, accident prone, Wayne Polsgrove, with a badly sprained wrist this time.

Like Jimmy Durante, I think "Everybody wants to get into the act!" (And believe me, I love it.) You who signed yourself Ely Day, I only have this to say.

If this be right I'll smile with glee! Pretty clever of you Ruth Jedele. Another one this week I've had, Who challenges me by signing "Tad"

Courthouse Notebook —

Believers in the importance of the top spot on the ballot in a multiple candidate primary race were on hand outside the door of County Clerk Gar Leaf's office to file their nominating petitions Monday morning and the weary sitters who had been holding down the fort for the past six weeks finally sat themselves out of a job.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Charles Larson was on hand to relieve his sitters and file his petitions for Sheriff, which was no surprise.

There was some surprise when Karl Berning, of Deerfield took over the second seat in line because the No. 2 sitters had been in place since long before Berning announced he would seek the Republican nomination for County treasurer.

There is some slight suspicion that the sitters might have been engaged originally by Guy O. Lunn, who withdrew from the race before he got into it, and turned the seat over to the county board chairman.

Ralph J. Dady, candidate for Probate Judge, took his place in line Sunday night to assure top place among the Judge candidates.

Dady, the Lake County Public Defender, installed his sitters in the No. 3 chair shortly before the holidays to get the jump on Mark Drobnick and LaVerne Dixon, the other candidates for the judgeship.

Neither Drobnick nor Dixon filed Monday and will probably hold out as long as possible to get the bottom spot on the ballot which tradition says is second best to being the top man.

Neither Robert H. (Mickey) Babcox who is a candidate for sheriff, nor Harold Hapke, the office candidate for County Treasurer, filed Monday, but unless a dark horse appears these will be two man races.

Hugo L. Schneider, Jr., outgoing County Treasurer, was the only candidate to file for Probate Clerk, but it seems inconceivable that Berning and Lunn won't have somebody running against the popular position of the candidates and it is expected that his State Senate opponent, Robert McClary, will be at the top spot on the GOP ballot for state representative, and Jack Belslow, the other incumbent from this county, will be at the top of the Democrat candidates.

Roy Wesellus, of Fox Lake, and other committee members of the Mickey Babcox Testimonial dinner to be held Jan. 31, went over to Don Molitor's Grayslake Bowl lanes the other p.m. to relax from their chores and the Fox Lake paint store operator shook up the crowd by converting the difficult 7-9 split.

Molitor said it was the first time in 25 years association with bowling that he had seen the conversion. "It was nothing at all," Wesellus grinned.

Mark Turner, president of the Antioch Democratic Club, who was elected vice-president of the Lake County Tavern Owners Assn., last week, refuses to claim a trend is developing because of it.

Al Skokle was re-elected president, Bud Beyer, secretary, and Ernehle San Ville, was again picked as treasurer.

Book Review

By Marian Hardin, Librarian

An excellent collection of books, many of which have the law or government as their subject, have been given to the Antioch Township Library in memory of Richard B. Seyfarth.

Harold Zink's "Modern Governments" discusses the many political institutions which govern the peoples of the world. In many cases a brief history of the evolution of a particular form of government is also given. This should be a valuable book to students and to all citizens interested in contemporary government.

Although the League of Nations has passed into history, its deliberations provided many precedents for international law. The author of "A History of the League of Nations," F. P. Walters had been a participant in the League during all of its stormy existence.

An understanding of the Supreme Court and its role in the evolution of our constitution and government is essential to all who would understand the workings of our government. "Leading Constitutional Decisions," by Robert E. Cushman, reviews the important decisions of the court and describes how these decisions crystallized the powers and relations of the three branches of our government.

"Voices in Court," edited by William H. Davenport, is an anthology of the law as interpreted by a wide variety of authors. Chief Justices of the Supreme Court, great criminal lawyers and an occasional literary classic are here for our enjoyment. "Voices in Court" will inspire many readers to explore further the books and authors he has met in his pages.

"My Life in Court" is a compelling account of Louis Nizer's career as a successful trial lawyer. He tells of the legal drama, in preparation and in the courtroom, of seven of his important cases. Particularly memorable is the story of the libel suit of news correspondent Quentin Reynolds against columnist Westbrook Pegler.

Shakespeare wrote for all humanity, but he wrote out of his own experience and surroundings. Ivor Brown, in "Shakespeare in His Time," has given us a picture of the world in which Shakespeare wrote. The history and literature, politics and everyday life of Elizabethan and Jacobean England provide us with a vivid social landscape.

1926: Not too Long Ago

By Jay Nash

Digging back into the files of the Antioch News seems to be a favorite pastime for some of our office workers. I can, no doubt, understand the reason why. It is a good way to see how the world changes. For instance, the bowling figure prefacing our present-day bowling column is the same zinc plate used in our 1926 editions.

On Thursday, March 26, the Antioch Theater was showing "Flower of the Night," starring the limpid-eyed Pola Negri, whose Hollywood romances of a by-gone era involved such people as John Gilbert, Wallace Reid and Ramon Navarro. At the same theater on April 21, the show was entitled "Don O. Son of Zorko," with a fellow by the name of Douglas Fairbanks playing the lead role.

The old Crystal Theater was having a Charleston contest on May 6th of that year. "Did you see them step last Wednesday?" the advertisement said.

Otto S. Klass was advertising Beau Brummel hats in 1926 and the First National Bank said it had $62,000 in capital and surplus. Conrad Nagel and Marion Davies were pulling some pretty fast stuff in "Lights of Old Broadway" down at the Crystal Theater on Saturday night.

The State Bank got a new electric sign on the front of its building in 1926. That was quite a thing then.

Inside Antioch High

By Mike Brooks

This is semester exam week at Antioch High. Even the weather gets "chills" when it thinks about it. The traditional three R's—Readin', Ritin' and Rithmatic should be receiving considerable attention these days. However, my feeble brain cannot seem to center on anything but the next two letters of the alphabet.

First there is "S"—"S" for snow, snow, and, more snow. "S" for shovel, shovel, shovel. Gotta get to school this morning. I can't afford to miss the reviews for exams. I'm sure that the poet who said, "Snow, snow, beautiful snow," never had to shovel, drive or work in it.

Then there is "T"—"T" for term paper. Ten pages typed. Two errors lower the grade. Type, type, type! Term paper—tackled and terminated—until the end of next semester rolls around!

"S & T" stands for Semester Test—Sixty? Golly no—that's failing! Seventy?—just passing—gotta do better than that!

"So"—study, study, study!

"S" is for sleep. What is that? Oh! A thing I used to get, back in the good old days of Readin', Ritin' and Rithmatic.

So much for Semester Exam Week. Hasn't anything happened around school? Not much. (Talking to yourself is not a bad habit, as long as you don't answer yourself.)

This weekend, January 19 and 20, hood and top was parked in front of a stairway leading to a mythological Spanish castle in a 1926 car advertisement. It sold for $1,385, a lot of money even in those days.

Hillebrand & Shultis were advertising Jonathan eating apples at 6c per pound and the Rexall Store was offering a 1c sale. Williams Bros. were demonstrating oil cook stoves and oven to awe-filled spectators who marveled at such new-fangled machines.

In 1926 Antioch residents were rolling their own with "Bull Durham." Some still do.

A serious-looking Gene Tunney dressed in a wing-collar and tuxedo looked out at Antioch News readers from an ad which said "The Fighting Marine." Watch for later announcements.

John L. Horan, then owner of the Antioch News, ran a half page, reading THIS SPACE RESERVED FOR UPTOWN MARKET. Apparently, someone forgot to place an ad when they were supposed to. No, times don't change that much.

A good leather shoe purchased at the Chicago Footwear Co. in Antioch cost the buyer a flat five dollars. And did they wear! Some even through the depression.

Everybody read "The Fighting Ranger," a serialized daredevil story which even made the front page.

All through the pages, national names such as Herbert Hoover, Harold "Red" Grange and Charlie Chaplin cropped up in the old hand-set type.

People were listening to Crosleys, watching silent movies and playing cards on Friday night. Yes, the Antioch of 1926 was a small town indeed but a bigger small town than most people think.

the Fine Arts Department of Antioch High is presenting "Musical Showboat." The proceeds from this production help to finance the summer music camp for the band and choir students. Quite a few familiar faces seen about town will be on stage. It will be a fine evening's entertainment.

Friday night, our Fighting Sequoia basketball team travels to Gurnee to battle the Warren Blue Devils (actually they are only Pink Cherub Angels in disguise). Every week the Sequoias get tougher and tougher, scrappier and scrappier. If you are looking for some exciting basketball, hop in the family buggy and chug over to Gurnee. That is only 13 miles for some top-notch basketball. The tip-off is scheduled for 7 p.m.

If you can't make it to Gurnee, or you would rather watch wrestling, the Wrestling Squad has a meet with Warren in the Antioch gym starting at 7 p.m. They have shown considerable improvement in the past weeks. Last week they lost to Elia-Vernon by only one point and to Warren by two.

Don't forget the big game a week from this Friday, on January 26 with Grayslake Ewes at Grayslake. We at ATHS are not forgetting the 84-81 loss to them earlier in the season.

While you are shoveling snow, here are two pleasant things to think about. There are only 63 more days until Spring (ah-h-h-h). Only 90 days left in this school year. "Thinking is the hardest work there is, which is the probable reason why so few engage in it."—Henry Ford.

Lake Villa News

By Mrs. Fred Bartlett
Lake Villa, Ill. 6-5372

LAKE VILLA—The Chain of Lakes Lutheran Mission will hold temporary worship Jan. 22, at the Grass Lake school on Grass Lake Road, located about 1 1/2 miles west of Route 59. Pastor Kenneth F. Haskell of Lincoln Drive, Lake Villa will be in charge of the services.

Services will begin at 9:30 a.m., followed by Sunday School at 11 a.m. Many gifts were given to the mission. They received gifts from the day school children of St. Paul's Lutheran School in Round Lake, The American Bible Society, Zion

Lutheran Church and the Lutheran Women's Missionary Society of St. Luke's Lutheran Church at Itasca. The young people of the Northern Illinois District of the Lutheran Church gave 50 hymnals, and Eddie and Carol Bickel, ages 6 and 10, gave pennies and dollars they had saved to the church. Also many other gifts were given.

Many people have offered their time and services to the church, including Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kolar, Mrs. John Kopecky, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Gerth, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Henlein, Mrs. Barbara Yanke and many others.

The Lake Villa American Legion Auxiliary cancelled their meeting Thursday night because of the weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bartlett and family, were visitors Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartlett, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fish entertained the following at a party at their home Saturday night: Mr. and Mrs. William Fish, Ann Nelson, Frank Cremin, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blumenschein and Marie Kelly, all of Lake Villa; from Antioch, Sheridan Burnett, and from Twin Lakes Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kelsler.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hollis of Waukegan were visitors Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartlett, Jr.

The Royal Neighbors Officers Club met at the home of Marie Hamlin Monday afternoon to complete plans for the Royal Neighbors installation to be held Tuesday, Jan. 18, at the Village Hall in Lake Villa. Mrs. Gladys McCarthy was the installing officer. Those attending the meeting were Georgia Avery, Bertha Fish, Helen Fish, Jerri Polson, Edna Botta and Cecile Blumenschein.

Don't forget the VFW Auxiliary dance at Downey Thursday evening. Bus service will be furnished. The bus will leave the VFW hall at 6:20 p.m. Anyone wishing to donate sandwiches can leave them at the home of Mrs. Gordon Blumenschein no later than 6 p.m.

The Lake Villa Salvation Army Unit wishes to thank all the people who donated so generously in their recent letter appeal for funds. This winter they have helped needy families with fuel oil, groceries and some clothing. This is made possible through your donations. William Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brooks, returned home from the Victory Memorial Hospital Saturday after undergoing surgery there last week. He is well on the road to recovery.

The Masters and Matrons of the Lake Villa Methodist Church will meet at the Methodist Church on McKinley Avenue, Lake Villa, on Saturday, Jan. 20, at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served by the committee.

Lassen & Svoboda To Wed in Spring

Mr. and Mrs. Knute Lassen of Route 21, Antioch, announce the engagement of their daughter, Clara Elizabeth, to Mr. Robert Svoboda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Svoboda, of 1932 Scoville Ave., Berwyn.

Clara is a 1960 graduate of Antioch Township High School and Robert graduated from Morton High School in Cicero. He also attended Southern Illinois University.

A May 5 wedding is being planned.

Meetings & Events

ALTAR AND ROSARY

Mrs. Elaine Apostol reports that the Rev. Alfred J. Henderson installed the following slate of officers at the January 8th Rosary and Benediction Service: Mrs. Jerome Vogler, president; Mrs. Henry Apostol, vice-president; Mrs. Leonard Needham, secretary, and Mrs. George Palaske, treasurer.

Twenty-seven members then attended the regular meeting, where Mrs. Charles Solar, retiring president, was feted for a fine two year term.

Mrs. Vogler announced plans for a Pre-Lenten card party to be held February 21, under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Rudy Eckert and Mrs. Daniel Dugenske. Details will follow the first board meeting, held last Friday.

Guest speaker Mrs. John F. Grady, R. N., was forced to turn back enroute, due to extreme weather conditions. However, pamphlets furnished by the Lake County Health Dept. were available to the members.

January birthday celebrants, Mrs. Daniel Dugenske and Mrs. Emily Stepenske, were honored.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lars Steffenburg and her committee.

DOWN NASSAU WAY

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Vavra of Antioch recently returned from a cruise aboard the air-conditioned S. S. Bahama Star. The couple cruised to Nassau overnight from Miami.

Erling and Frazier To Wed in Sept.

The engagement of Miss Judith Ann Erling to Mr. Edward C. Frazier has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Erling, of 5057 W. Superior St., Chicago. Miss Erling and her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Frazier, 1067 Spafford St., Antioch, plan a September wedding at the Douglas Park Evangelical Church, Chicago.

Miss Erling is a graduate of the Illinois Masonic Hospital School of Nursing, and presently employed at St. Annes Hospital in Chicago. Her fiancé is a graduate of the Antioch Township High School and is employed at the Public Service Co. in Northbrook.

In And About Our Town

Mrs. Helen Nelson (Antioch News photo)

"Figures have been my life," stated Mrs. Helen Nelson, Antioch Township School Treasurer who receives well over a million dollars a year in public funds. The past year saw 2,300,000 dollars pass through her hands.

Mrs. Nelson was appointed township school Treasurer on Sept. 2, 1949 upon the death of George Bartlett. She is well bonded in handling tax monies which are always invested in U. S. Securities. Mrs. Nelson states that area taxpayers "can rest assured that all monies have been kept working until used."

The government investments made by Mrs. Nelson can be made at any period of time and have paid interest rates of 2 to 3½% most of the time.

In the twelve years Mrs. Nelson has been handling public tax funds she has made some $80,000 for the township schools.

All of Mrs. Nelson's transactions have been paid through the local banks but since these smaller institutions do not have the bond buying departments that large investments of this nature necessitate, two Chicago banks carry clearing accounts for the Antioch funds.

Residing with her husband, Myrus Nelson on Victoria street, Mrs. Nelson does most of her work at home.

She has three children: Mrs. Shirley Erbach, a son, Alvin, who is stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, and a daughter, Leone, a sophomore student at Antioch Township High School.

A graduate of ATHS, Mrs. Nelson worked in the First National Bank in Antioch before taking over her duties as Antioch Township School Treasurer.

Death Notices

MICHAEL SHKELL

Michael Shkell, 73, formerly of 6217 14th Ave., Kenosha, Wis., died Thursday, Jan. 11, of a heart attack, in the Camp Lake Nursing Home. Born Nov. 5, 1888 in Vilno, Russia, Mr. Shkell lived at the Wood VA Hospital in Milwaukee and Brookside Home in Kenosha before going to the Camp Lake Nursing Home one and one-half years ago. He was a veteran of the U. S. Army in World War I and worked for American Brass in Kenosha.

There are no known relatives. Services were held Saturday morning at the Strang Funeral Home, 1055 Main St., with the Rev. Edmond Hood officiating. Burial was in Liberty Cemetery.

EVELYN SCHMICK

Mrs. Evelyn Schmick of San Bernardino, Calif., died Jan. 12, in the local hospital there. She had been a summer resident in the Fox Lake area.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Joseph, in 1948.

Graveside services were held at St. Bede's Cemetery, Fox Lake, this morning (Thursday) with the Strang Funeral Home, Antioch, handling the local arrangements.

JACOB JAMES GOETZ

Jacob James Goetz, 64, of Cross Lake, died at 5:45 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 11, at his home, of a heart attack.

Born June 29, 1897, in Chicago, Mr. Goetz came to Cross Lake in 1948.

He was a member of St. Scholastica's Church, Bristol, and of St. Anthony's Court No. 62, Catholic Order of Foresters.

He was employed as a punch press operator for the Morton Manufacturing Co. in Morton Grove.

Surviving are his widow, Victoria; two daughters, Mrs. Bernice Fruhauf of Niles and Mrs. Gert Jorczak of Chicago; two brothers, Andrew and Joseph Goetz, both of Chicago, and four grandchildren. Three brothers, John, Louis and Thomas, preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held Monday morning in St. Scholastica Church with burial in St. Scholastica Cemetery.

A parish vigil was held at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Strang Funeral Home, Antioch.

ROY E. GIARD

Roy E. Giard, 66, of Lake Villa, died Monday, Jan. 15, in Downey Hospital at Great Lakes. Mr. Giard moved to Lake Villa ten years ago from Huron, S. D.

He was born Nov. 22, 1895. Surviving are his widow, Edna, of Lake Villa; his mother, Anna Giard and a sister, Mrs. D. H. Lloyd of Lubbock, Texas.

Private graveside services are scheduled to be held in Huron, S. D.

IDA M. STEPHENS

Miss Ida M. Stephens, 84, formerly of Highway 50, Bristol, Wis., died Sunday evening at the Camp Lake Nursing Home, after a lingering illness.

She was born June 5, 1877 in Bristol Township, and has lived on the same farm all her life, until entering the Camp Lake Nursing Home two and one-half years ago.

She is survived by one brother, Frank of Camp Lake, one niece and one nephew.

Two brothers preceded her in death, Fred on May 13, 1957, and William J. Stephens on Jan. 6, 1960.

Services were held at the Strang Funeral Home at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, with the Rev. James McHolland of the Salem Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in Salem Mound Cemetery.

MRS. E. J. CORBIN, SR., DIES

Word was received on Monday morning by Mr. and Mrs. Byron Corbin, Jr., of Cross Lake, of the death of Byron's mother at Lakeland, Florida.

They flew to Lakeland for the service, which at the time of departure had not been arranged.

Mrs. Dorothy (Byron) Corbin, 75, leaves, beside her husband, Dr. B. J., Sr., and her son, Byron, Jr., a sister, Martha, and two brothers, Frank and Owen Hattrem, all of California.

Historical Experts Find Ancient Indian Skeletons

Probably the most important archaeological find in the state of Illinois was recently uncovered in Newport Township two weeks ago in an Indian burial site near Wadsworth.

Mal E. Schlegel, Superintendent of a new gravel pit being dug by the Vulcan Co. in the area, along with Ray Hanson and Donald Krumweide, two operating engineers, were the discoverers of an adult skeleton, possibly belonging to a woodland or Mississippian culture of Indians pre-dating the written history of America. This was an assumption of Robert Vogel, director of the Lake County Museum of History, who participated in the dig for fossils and artifacts.

Allen Liss of the Chicago Natural History Museum said that such extensive and scientific excavations of an undisturbed site had not been made since before 1900.

Liss fixed the age of the bones to be from anywhere from 500 to 2000 years old. William Palmer, president of the Lake County Museum Board stated that the bones could possibly date back as far as 4000 years.

A "bundle burial" of a dozen skeletons was also found previously. The Indians of this undisclosed and mysterious period of history, it was related, practiced the custom of wrapping their dead in large groups of bones and placing them in buffalo hides before dropping them into a common pit. It was also the practice to leave the dead exposed to the elements for long periods of time so that the flesh would rot, leaving only the bones for burial.

Adjacent to the last adult skeleton was found the skeleton of a juvenile. About the juvenile's neck was strung a necklace composed of shell beads and drilled canine teeth of bear pendants.

These artifacts will, no doubt, give the archaeologists an opportunity to fix the burials at a certain date. Along with a necklace, Mr. Vogel pointed out that charcoal burns were found upon pieces of hardened earth.

Aside from the burial finds, Vogel, director of the Wadsworth historical museum, stated that he was sorry that the museum was not equipped to handle as many exhibits as he would hope to.

On touring the museum, an unheated barn located on Wadsworth Road and Highway 41, a reporter of the Antioch News noted the authenticity of the uniforms, guns, drums, swords and historical implements both of peace and war since the time of Washington, exhibited.

The cramped storage areas of the museum contain relics and notable collections of valuable historical items much in demand of space. The museum, which is considered by many historical authorities both in Wisconsin and Illinois to be one of the finest, suffers from inadequate housing, lack of facilities, improper heating and much-needed storage space. In fact Mr. Vogel stated, if a fire were to break out in the barn, every important historical record and item in Lake County would be lost. This museum, which is a great tribute to the lasting past of the county, has survived due to the ceaseless and struggling efforts of Robert Vogel and the Museum's board of directors, dedicated to preserving the history of Lake County for the use of future generations. Records and historical collections have even overflowed in Vogel's home, located further down the road from the museum, which notes the necessity for expansion.

Plans have been tentatively made for a new building site which would afford expansive room for the overflow of present exhibits and a wider range of historical offerings to the residents of Lake County. The museum's board, hampered, of course, from lack of funds, is nevertheless still attempting to progress toward the goal of having a proper and lasting place in which to rest the history of Lake County. Perhaps if residents would consider the importance of having such a museum, Vogel stated, we would receive enough outside aid to shorten the time of our common goal.

Searching for thousand-year old artifacts located near the recent Indian-mound find of old skeletons, are members of the Lake County Historical Museum and archaeological representatives from Chicago.

More than half of the 25 biggest advertising spenders among companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange upped their advertising outlays in 1960. Total spending of the five leaders was $1,365 million.

Channel Lake News

By Mrs. Pearl Kapell
CONTEST WINNERS

With comparatively good weather prevailing, crowds of ice-fishing enthusiasts were on hand and set up for fishing when the First Annual Ice-fishing Contest of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club started at 9 a.m. Sunday on Channel Lake. The crowd grew steadily through the morning, and dwindled slowly after the heavy, wet snow started to fall about 1 p.m.

The feminine side of the family was well represented in the group of hopeful anglers, and in many cases the whole family was vying for honors. One young man about 12 years of age put his whole family to shame, carrying home four prizes while Mom, Dad and Grandpa went empty-handed—or empty-hooked.

Prizes for the oldest and youngest fishermen went to an 84 year old Spanish War veteran (a walking advertisement for fishing to stay young) and a young lady of two and three-fourths years, escorted by her father.

Traffic was heavy and continuous around the refreshment tent, where hot food was served throughout the day.

If further proof were needed of the die-hard qualities of the true fisherman, dozens of them continued fishing in the heavy snowstorm after the derby had ended. A special vote of thanks must go to the state troopers who stayed on duty throughout the day at the south end of the lake and kept traffic straightened out so that there were no traffic accidents to mar the day.

ADULT PLAYERS

If you wondered what was going on at the Channel Lake gym Sunday night, it was the members of our school board practicing up on some of their strategy for the forthcoming basketball game between board members and the "A" squad of the Channel Lake team for the formal opening of the new gym on Friday, Jan. 19.

Representing the school board in what is expected to be a fast and furious game will be Elmer "Flash" Eberman; Doc "Dribbler" Anderson; Dick "Tiger" Harland; Elmer, "The Rock" Melendick; and Lee "Hotshot" McKinney. Donald Behling and "Bud" Scott will assist the team in case of injuries or other emergencies.

Wives of board members are expected to serve as cheerleaders for the occasion. The evening will open at 7:30 p.m. with a parents' night at the school and open house for inspection of the new gym and kitchen facilities. The big game is expected to start at about 8:30, followed by coffee and cake served by the P.T.A. There will be no charge for admittance.

NEW STREET LIGHTING

Without fanfare or formality, Sun-Side Subdivision at Channel Lake took a giant stride toward becoming one of the most progressive subdivisions in this area when its new street lights were turned on for the first time on January 5.

Most residents of the subdivision were delighted with their new improvement. Women report that it is a pleasure to be able to walk to neighbors or to the store on the lighted streets. It is expected that the innovation will cut down on petty thefts such as stealing gas from parked cars.

Much of the "paper" work and formalities required to get the new lights installed was done by George Grunow. The Ways and Means committee also worked hard to finance the project, and reported good co-operation from subdivision members. President of the Subdivision Association is Leonard Needham.

It is to be hoped that some of our other subdivisions will follow Sun-Side's example. I have heard many people express the wish that Lake St. were lighted, particularly among our senior members, most of whom are afraid to venture out after dark for fear of falling on the dark roads.

GIRL SCOUTS

By Mrs. Raymond Claffy

Brownie Troop 212 of Venetian Village held a short investiture ceremony to invest Patricia Hewitt. Their leader is Mrs. Mary Rozga. They had reviewing of the Flag Ceremony first and finished their afternoon by playing games.

Intermediate Troop 116 of Lake Villa had an ice skating party at Petite Lake with 15 girls and 3 leaders attending. Mrs. Paulson, one of the troop's committee members served the party cookies and hot chocolate afterwards. Their leader is Mrs. Ruth Sorensen and her co-leaders are Mrs. Hazel Hansen and Mrs. Lucille Ellis.

New Brownie Troop 187 of Antioch held a candle ceremony to invest three troop committee members, Cora Schoenbeck, Marge Yopp and Betty Stelskal. Their leader, Mrs. T. J. Wilson, also presented all the girls in the troop with a World Association pin as a Christmas gift from the leaders. Co-leader is Mary Delattre. All the parents were invited and the girls presented them with gifts they had made.

Brownie Troop 126 of Lindenhurst invested Mrs. Raymond Panzer as part of their troop committee and Mrs. Raymond Claffy, leader, also presented Gail Panzer with her second year membership star pin. Co-leader Mrs. Henry Pearce led the girls in songs and playing games. There are 31 girls in the troop.

All leaders please remind your girls to bring in all old dolls that can be dressed and used for resale in a booth at the annual Country-side Hospital rummage and bake sale in the near future, also any materials you may have to be used to sew clothes for the dolls. When your troop has all items ready please call Mrs. Joyce McCleod at EL. 6-7839 for pickup.

Troop 78 of Big Hollow School, Fox Lake Area, have been working diligently on their community badge and their principal, Mr. Edward Taverline was guest speaker at their last meeting and explained and answered questions in reference

Record Falls in '61 Illinois Securities

The year 1961 was a record year in terms of securities, securities dealers, salesmen and investment advisers registered under the Illinois Securities Law, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter reported today. A record $5,980,010,380.13 of securities were registered and authorized for sale in 1961, an increase of $283,191,432.07 over the preceding year, Mr. Carpenter said. In addition, a record 662 applications were filed to register securities. Applications were filed with the Securities Division at as to how the public schools operate. The nine girls in this troop appreciated his efforts and wish to thank him. Their leader is Mrs. Janet Magoon.

an unprecedented pace, for example, the 76 applications filed in October exceeded the number filed in some six-month periods in past years, he said. At the same time a record 63 applications were withdrawn by the applicants after being advised of the requirements of the Illinois Securities Law.

During the year Securities Law violators have made offers to 2,180

The American Experience

By Ray Fuchner

Turning back the pages of history to about 1800 let's step into the log cabin or sod house of an early American pioneer and stay for dinner. What would we be likely to be served? Well, let's take a look at the pioneer menu of the time.

Dependent upon the location, the particular type of game most abundant in the area would be the leading meat. This could be rabbit, squirrel, deer, bear, various variety of fowl, in short, practically any edible game which could be brought home by the frontiersman. The real treat, the piece de resistance, of the pioneer's table was "hog and hominy." This unappetizing dish consisted of pork served with Indian corn. Believe it or not, the corn was first boiled in lye to remove the hulls, after which it was soaked in clear water and cooked soft.

One thing we could be certain of being served throughout the day would be corn. "Johnny cake" and "pone" (two types of cornbread) were regular fare for both breakfast and dinner. And, according to Frederick Ogg's "The Old Northwest," the standard dish for supper was "cornmeal mush and milk." All in all, a pretty corny menu.

Frequently the household lacked milk, that is to say, a cow, in which case hominy (corn again) was substituted for milk. Occasionally the cornmeal mush might be varied by serving it with "sweetened water, molasses, the gravy of fried meat, or even bear's oil." In any case it was still cornmeal mush.

Vegetables were more plentiful for almost every family had a "truck patch" or garden in which they grew potatoes, pumpkins, squashes, beans, melons, and, of course, corn. Ordinarily the vegetable garden adjoined the house so that chances are you would certainly have fresh vegetables.

If you were not a vegetarian and were a poor shot, chances were good that you rarely enjoyed a decent meal. Such things as wild fruits and wild grapes, honey and the like could be gathered from the forests, but for game the pioneer had to rely upon his trusty rifle.

It would also be extremely unlikely that we would have coffee or tea with our meal in the pioneer's home. They were unknown for a long time and, even after being introduced, were scorned by the men-folk as "slops." Coffee and tea, in other words, might in the men's opinion, be good enough for women and children, but certainly they would never poison themselves with it.

Such was the monotonous menu of pioneer days. I don't know about you, but I'm glad I wasn't around then.

Heart News Beat

Does overweight cause heart disease?

A clearcut answer is not possible! In the precise field of research, medical science would be reluctant to say positively even if 90 per cent of all cardiac cases were overweight.

This high percentage would not constitute final proof, in medical eyes, until the reasons why were established. Many of the most easily apparent conclusions in research eventually fail to be established, and every link between cause and effect must be thoroughly known before final opinions can be formed.

Nevertheless, in the case of overweight, enough is known without that yes-or-no answer to indicate that overweight is a health hazard and on those grounds alone should be avoided.

Overweight automatically adds to the work of the heart, which is one reason why physicians insist that heart patients keep their weight down.

A special medical symposium on overweight sponsored by the Chicago Heart Association's parent agency, the American Heart Association, produced general agreement that overweight is more easily prevented than cured.

The best way to prevent pounds from accumulating, they pointed out, was to keep in balance the amount of energy taken in as food and the amount of energy used up in everyday activities. When these factors are equal, weight remains the same. Upset the balance and weight is gained or lost.

One upsetting factor in these days of the Battle of the Bulge is the labor-saving devices—the machines and appliances that make our lives more comfortable. Not too long ago the housewife spent 240 calories scrubbing the family wash and 60 more taking it to the line. Today, with automatic washers, the count is 15 calories.

Walking has become unfashionable and as people age, bodily changes occur which reduce food requirements. Yet most of us, creatures of habit, continue to eat the same large amounts of food they once required.

One can help to restore the balance between energy output and food intake by increasing the amount of moderate regular exercise—walk to the corner store instead of riding, for instance.

The Chicago Heart Association, your local Heart Council, and the American Heart Association have issued these four points for sensible living:

1. Eat a varied, well-balanced diet; keep your weight normal (your doctor will tell you your ideal weight); avoid "special" unprescribed diets; if your doctor advises a diet, follow it exactly.

2. A man is getting old when he waits in line to take the escalator to the basement floor.

One of the first lessons to learn in life is that you can make some people deliciously happy simply by letting them alone.

Watching children playing happily together is an almost unbelievable sight, especially if they all happen to be your own.

Sequoits Triumph Over Ela-Vernon 64-54

Kubicki Hits For 20 Points

By Jay Nash

Using a slow break and alternating squads of players, Larry Leon's Sequoit team rolled over Ela-Vernon last Friday night, Jan. 12, while racking up a moderate 64 to 54 score.

The Sequoits, playing their usual deliberate game, opened the first quarter's action by slipping in only 11 points against the Bears' score of 13. Both teams moved sluggishly, their passing wild and their breaks uncontrolled.

Bill Ozga, who came into the game early, quickly drew three successive fouls and was taken out to loosen up by Leon.

Pogose, Dittman and Pleviak, boys who play little, were put into the game early and did little to push Antioch ahead of Ela's winning margin of two points.

Pleviak, whose dead-eye racked up 8 points, is a fast-breaking player who, although he has a knack for charging up the team offensively, committed some atrocious and extremely obvious fouls on defense. If and when he failed to cover a man, missing a pass or feed, he became anxious and an act of almost desperate fouling followed. If he could curb himself a bit on this count, he could develop into a fine defensive player which is exactly what the Sequoits need more of.

The second quarter saw Antioch still trailing Ela by 3 points, 20 to 17.

Kubicki, who hit for 20 points in the game, sharpened his attack in the second quarter placing his shots and, unlike the whole of the squad, waiting for the right time to pump in the big one.

Brownlee played an exceptionally dominant game, setting up positions, following through with excellent feeds and scoring 16 points throughout the course of the game.

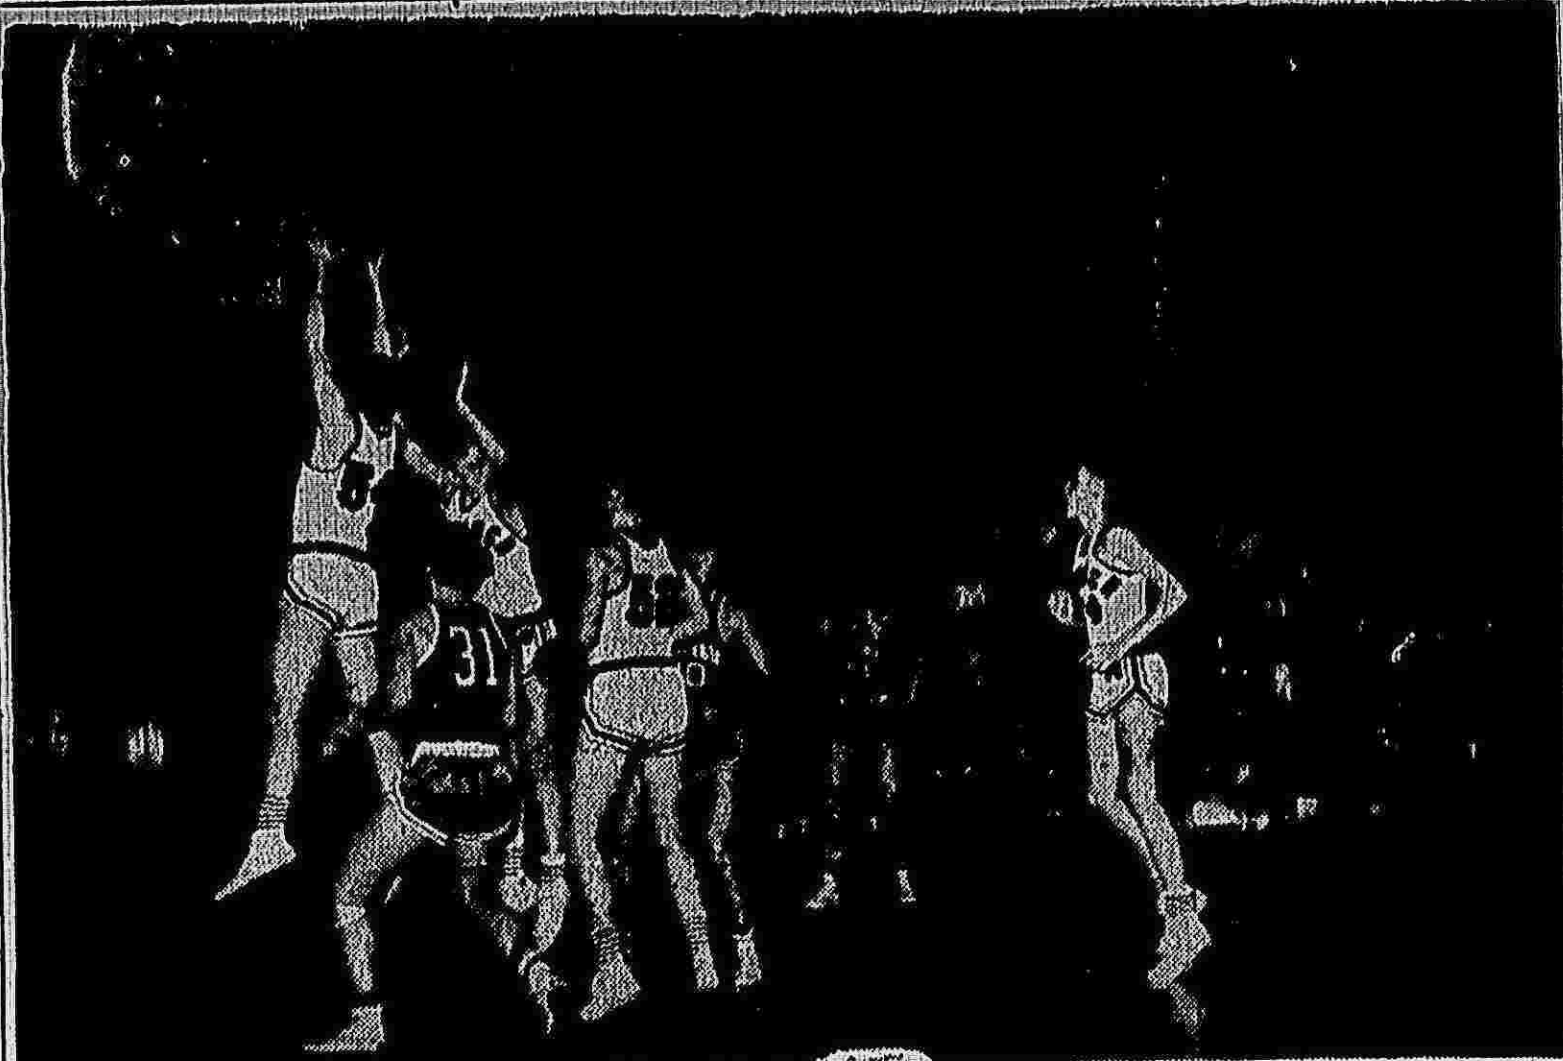

The Bears, with Kreuser leading the way for his team by scoring 19 points, continued to hold the edge until the third quarter when Antioch eagles picked up four points.

The fourth quarter saw the Sequoits come to life, scoring 22 points to the Bears' 11, giving them, in the closing minutes of the game, a 64 to 54 win.

Doug Lang, along with Krieger and Hallwas, played a fine defensive game. Lang fought for every rebound and came up with 9. Ela's Elliott topped him with 11 rebounds, but the Bears showed only 31.3% to Antioch's 41.8% of the total rebounds.

The Fresh-Sophomore game was also taken by Antioch, 78-62.

The oncoming game tomorrow (Friday) night, at 7 p.m. will pit the Sequoits against second place Warren. The game will be held at Warren and, if Antioch can keep up their scoring accuracy and improve their defense, they should have a good chance of taking it.

Antioch Sizzles Nets With Game Won by McHenry

By Howard Shepard

Larry Leon's Sequoits, with a phenomenal display of shooting accuracy, rocked a fast-breaking McHenry squad back on their heels for 30 minutes out of the regulation 32 Saturday night. The Warriors finally took the victory 89 to 82.

Hitting on 13 of 14 free throws in the first half, the Sequoits ended the first quarter leading 21 to 18. The McHenry quintet came roaring back with 34 points in the second quarter to lead at intermission 52 to 39.

Trailing by only 5 points with 90 seconds left in the half, the Sequoits lost the ball on bad passes four successive times to give the Warriors 8 quick points and a strong halftime lead.

The Sequoits cut the margin to nine points in the third quarter as they blistered the nets for 23 points to McHenry's 19. With a little over one minute left in the final stanza the spirited Sequoit squad had pulled to within 6 points of the Warriors.

Three straight buckets by the McHenry shooters pulled them out of reach.

Both teams were red hot from the field with the Sequoits taking the edge by dumping 31 baskets in 35 attempts for a .565 percentage. The Warriors had 40 out of 84 for a .476 mark.

Bob Kubicki took scoring honors for Antioch with 27 points on 11 field goals and 5 free throws. Jim Brownlee, 5'2" Sequoit guard scored 12 and Bob Krieger hit for 16.

Morenz and May hit for 60 points between them to lead the way for McHenry with Morenz taking game honors with 31 counters.

John Hallwas in his first starting role of the season turned in a creditable performance all around, scoring 11 points.

Antioch moves to Gurnee Friday for a conference tilt against Warren. Warren is presently trailing Round Lake by one game for first place honors in the conference.

Scouts Stamp Out Bulldogs

Grant's quintet was thoroughly trounced by a hard-driving Lake Forest squad last Friday night at Ingleside 69-47.

Lake Forest, with a run-away lead from the start of the contest, registered a scoring spurt in the third quarter of the game to assure the Scout's victory.

The win placed Lake Forest in a three-way tie with Antioch and Warren in the conference.

Steve Ekdahl, who is second place league scorer in the conference, tallied a nifty 20 points in aiding his team to victory.

The Lake Forest squad, which probably has the fastest break in the conference, outscored the Bulldogs in the third quarter 23 to 9, which set them up for the final game win.
